

*As of March 8th we are combining the Talent show & Art Show into one event:
Celebrate Woodinville is Saturday March 31, 2012

Announcing the 2012 Amateur Talent & Art Exhibit

For this year we are changing how the event(s) are presented and run. This has been a focal point this year, as we were looking at all the budget cuts in our city. It has also been a learning curve on what can be done and how much time it takes to organize these 2 activities.

However In keeping with the spirit of Woodinville and in looking at all the promising talent that our young people display. We have 5 ways that our youth and young at heart can participate this year. *

❖ Join the Talent Show...

- We are looking for groups or individuals that enjoy entertaining with a focus on youth and all the amazing accomplishment that they participate in.
- Bands, dance teams, choirs, karate, sport demonstrations, local actors, & comedians, are all invited to participate. We would love to have a puppet show, improve, and more. If it can be done on a stage it could be done here. In this show everyone is a winner.
- We have space for each group to have a display table with more information on their resources, location, and programs available to the community.
- Master of Ceremonies As of this printing, we are still waiting for an official MC to kick off the event on Saturday. Event Entertainers we are looking for a group to start the event that could work with the Master of Ceremonies to fill in blanks between groups.

❖ Join the Art Exhibit this year.

- It will not be an Art show with prizes this year, but rather a chance for promising artists in Woodinville to display their art. Woodinville schools and other organizations with youth are invited to participate.
- This year, we would like to display local artists that have already planned on entering the art show by having a special display of your work. At the fair we will have a 2013 Booth explaining next year's event plans. And we would like to have examples of the talent and types of art we would like for the City of Woodinville's 20th Birthday Bash on March 30, 2013

❖ Grades Pre –K thru 12th are offered 2 ways to display their art work:

- We would like to use your art work to hang on the walls of the talent show and at other places in the event. Pictures, drawings and other art work that could be hung on the walls using the blue painter's masking tape will be a creative way for everyone to see and admire your work.
- The other option is to help decorate the event with your art work & imagination, this year's theme is Hometown Heroes, and the colors are red white and blue, I would be happy to talk with the teachers about their ideas: paper flags, a paper chain that starts with links from each class and continues to grow as we add to it at the event, A color page study of our American Heroes, red white and blue finger-painting, or any direction your imagination takes you.

❖ Hometown Volunteers needed for this event:

- Counts as volunteer school credit, looks good on résumés.
